THE IRISH WAR.

ANOTHER STRONGHOLD ATTACKED.

A SLEEPING GARRISON.

LONDON, July 16.

Strengthened by guns and armoured cars landed at Bunrana by an Irish gunboat, the National troops last evening attacked the stronghold of Inch Island, occupied by two hundred Irregulars. After a four hours bombardment with an eighteen pounder, the Nationals advanced and penetrated some distance on the island. They surrounded the stronghold capturing during the advance Lord Templemore's house, which the Irregulars had occupied for weeks. A number of prisoners were taken. The early surrender of the stronghold is anticipated. Explosions and volumes of smoke this morning indicated that the defenders were destroying ammunition. The Free Staters captured the barracks at Dundalk, imprisoning the garrison of 250, who were in bed without a single shot being fired but one of the Irregulars was killed and another wounded in the fighting in the town prior to the assault on the barracks.

A PEACE EFFORT.

LONDON, July 16.

In view of the anxiety caused by the deliberate destruction of property by the Irregulars an effort is being made by the Irish Labour Party (Labour Union) congress to secure peace by conference. The executive of the Labourite members of the new Parliament decided during the weekend to invite all their colleagues in Parliament to meet at its Mansion House in Dublin on July 20 to consider proposals for peace.

ACTIVITIES OF THE IRREGULARS.

LONDON, July 16.

According to reports received in Dublin Irregulars seized and looted many ships in Cork harbour besides the depredations on shipping business premises. At Limerick they seized the famous bacon factories and flour mills, rendering the employees idle. This feature of the Irregulars activities is emphasised in a manifesto by the Irish government addressed to Mr. Collins and the new War Council reaffirming its determination to suppress the revolt which aims at the destruction of the economic life of the nation by burning and wrecking property and robbing and conscripting the population.

MORE NATIONAL VICTORIES.

The rebel fortress at Inch Island, Lough Swilly, surrendered and twenty one prisoners were taken. The remainder of the garrison of two hundred escaped. All the rebel strongholds east of North Donegal have now been cleared. A communique issued in Dublin states that National troops captured the whole of Dundalk. Three hundred Irregulars were taken prisoner. Little resistance was offered. One Irregular was killed and wounded while trying to escape.

AMERICAN ATHLETES' DECISION.

LONDON, July 16.

The American athletic union has declined to participate in the forthcoming Tailteann games owing to the disturbed conditions in Ireland.

PEACE PROSPECTS POOR.

GLOOMY OUTLOOK OF BOB SMILLIE.

LONDON, July 17.

Mr. Robert Smillie, speaking at Pontypool, said they were told there would not be another war but capitalists' greed might bring one. Were there coalfields in China where it would be possible to obtain more coal than Britain, Germany, France, and America together could produce, war might come about that. Japan had eyes on it and America said "No thank you. I am not going to allow it." People talked about international peace yet the different countries were trying to beat each other in the most effective methods of wiping out the human race by aeroplanes, bombs, and poison gas.

WHITE SLAVERY.

BELGIUM AND SIAM SET GOOD EXAMPLE.

LONDON, July 17.

News from Geneva is that the secretariat of the League of Nations has received the Siamese government's ratification of the international convention for the suppression of traffic in women and children that was drawn up at Geneva on Sept 30 last year. Belgium and Siam are hitherto the only countries to communicate ratification of the convention.

AEROPLANE CRASH.

FIVE KILLED.

PARIS, July 17.

An aeroplane from Strasbourg on the Paris-Strasbourg service crashed at Saverne in Alsace Lorraine. The pilot and four passengers were killed.

CAUCASIAN OILFIELD.

SHELL AND RUSSIAN CONVERSATIONS.

PARIS, July 16.

Le Temps says that through the intermediary of the President of the Hague conference the Royal Dutch Shell Company has invited representatives of the Russian petroleum interests to a conference with a view to considering the resumption of work in the Caucasian Oilfields. Besides Colonel Boyle, who is continuing the conversations interrupted at Genoa, the chairman of the Shell board of directors is reported to be at the Hague.

MOTOR RACING.

GRAND PRIX RESULT.

STRASBOURG July 16.

The Grand Prix du Tourisme was won by Rougier in a Voisin car, which completed sixty circuits, a distance of 709 kilometres 140 metres in 6h. 35m. 9.2/10.

THE TAIL TEANN GAMES.

NOT TILL NEXT YEAR.

LONDON, July 17.

The Tail Teann games are officially postponed until August, 1923.

VOLLEYBALL.

SCHOOLS' SEASON CLOSED.

(CONTRIBUTED)

The Schools' volleyball season was concluded on Friday afternoon when the trophies were presented to the winning teams by Mr. R. H. Kotewall. Before the presentation a match was played between Queen's College and St. Paul's College, which had tied for first place in the junior division of the league. The match was a very close one, resulting in a win for St. Paul's by two games to one.

The president of the Volleyball Association said that it was to be regretted that only two teams, Queen's and St. Paul's, had entered for the senior division. St. Paul's had won the senior trophy, but the scores in the six games, had been very close and Queen's had twice had very hard luck in losing by a single point. In the junior division six schools had competed, and the result had been a tie between Queen's and St. Paul's, the final having been played off that afternoon. In the small boys' division Queen's College had won easily, without losing a single game.

Mr. Kotewall congratulated the winners and said that the last time he had the pleasure of presenting prizes for volleyball was more than eight years ago, when the game was first started in Hongkong. He considered it a great pleasure to be able to do so today.

"WAYS THAT ARE DARK"

STRANGE TALE BY OUR WU-CHOW CORRESPONDENT.

WUWOW, July 16.

The height of the river at Wuwow yesterday was 48 feet. At Samolin it was 17 ft. 6 in. Last Tuesday the G.O.C. at Wuwow sent a message to the G.O.C. of the Kwangsi People's Army lying about eight miles further up the river. He said the Yunnan troops were approaching, and he wished to oppose them at that point, so that he requested the People's Army to vacate that town.

This they obligingly did, but looted the town before they left it. When the Canton troops marched in, and found that the place had been looted, they set fire to it. I do not see what the Yunnan troops can do to it when they arrive.

affording exercise to a number of players on a small ground, producing stamens, a good eye and combination between the players. He wished he were eligible to play in the league himself. He wished to present a trophy to be competed for in any of the three divisions, the committee might decide, one of the cups having been already won outright. The trophies were then presented, and the proceedings terminated with hearty cheers for Mr. Kotewall and the Hon. Secretary.

CORRESPONDENCE.

A KINEMA DISAPPOINTMENT.

(To the Editor of the "China Mail.")

Sir,—When one pays $1.50 for a seat in a picture house, one does not want old pictures "dished up." Last night my chum and myself went to the Coronet, expecting a change of programme. With the exception of two short films which failed to interest us, the show was the same as on Saturday. What has Mr. Ray to say?

Yours etc.,

DISAPPOINTED.

JAPAN TO-DAY.

PROSPEROUS AND HOME
LOVING.

In an interview, Mr. A. L. Sadler, who has been living for the past 12 years in Japan, and who recently arrived in Sydney to take up an appointment as Professor of Oriental Languages at the Sydney University, said that the Chinese and Japanese were widely separated by racial prejudice and custom and he did not consider that talk of a "yellow peril" so far as Australia was concerned should carry any weight.

Mr. Sadler said that though the population of Japan was great, and had enormously increased, it was considered in Japan that there was sufficient room to utilize the whole of the people profitably. The population was fairly well spread over the country, a very large percentage of the people being engaged in farming pursuits. Japan, he said, was a mountainous country, but it was considered by some people that if much of the hilly land, not at present under cultivation, were treated with modern methods, a great deal of it could be put to profitable use. The Japanese as a people were a home-loving race; only in special circumstances would the average Japanese leave his country to live permanently in another. There was, of course, a type, as there was in most countries, in which the colonizing instinct was developed, and this accounted for the fairly large numbers who had settled in California and Honolulu, for instance. The Japanese were fond of travelling, and people of means indulged this taste, to a considerable extent.

With regard to industrial conditions, Mr. Sadler said that Japan had enjoyed a period of exceptional prosperity since the Russo Japanese war, and she still further profited out of the late war. The increase in prosperity had no doubt accounted to some extent for the increased birth-rate. Times, however, were not as good at present as they had been. There was not a great deal of unemployment in Japan. The problem there largely solved itself by reason of the fact that when the people found they could not make a living in the towns, they drifted back to the country, and took up the work of land cultivation with their families. The family spirit was one of the strongest influences in the life of the people. The family, and not the individual, was the unit, and all domestic troubles and problems were submitted to a family conference. Filial piety was regarded as one of the greatest virtues. It was this spirit which bound the nation to the Imperial family, for the Emperor was the father of all the people. Besides this the Japanese Imperial family was of very ancient lineage, and was held in reverence for that reason.

"The cost of living, especially for Europeans," said Mr. Sadler, "is very high in Japan at present. Rice, the staple diet of the people, and other foodstuffs have risen in price to a fairly considerable extent. The Japanese, however, are people of simple habits and wants, and what to Europeans is an everyday necessity is in many cases a luxury to them. Beef of the best quality costs nearly 4/- per lb. Mutton is practically unknown, as it is not produced in the country. There is little pastoral land, and most of the farming country is under intensive cultivation. The Japanese employes will seldom work for low wages. Industrial unions are unknown, but trade guilds, such as have been in existence for centuries, still exist, and it is through these organizations that the workmen combine to achieve their ends. The artisan of late years has been exceptionally well off, but, being an improvident person, he has not greatly profited by it in most cases. The Japanese artisan refuses to be hurried, and he further helps to solve the unemployment problem by making a job last as long as he can. Needless to say, this is very irritating to the people who are waiting for the work to be done."

Although a great deal is made in the European Press of political disturbances in Japan, Mr. Sadler declares that these agitations have no meaning for the great bulk of the Japanese people. They are practically confined to the people of the big centres, like Tokio and Osaka, and in the majority of cases are engineered by agitators. The disturbances are largely participated in by students, who revel in them as a form of mild excitement, and they have no serious significance. The bulk of the people are glad to leave the administration of the country to the Government, which, Mr. Sadler says, does the work very well. This is largely due to the fact that appointment to official positions does not go by virtue of wealth or favour, but those who aspire to them have to pass severe examinations in order to obtain promotion.

The reduction of armaments is favourably regarded by the majority of the thinking public in Japan," said Mr. Sadler. "In the past a great deal of money has been spent in the maintenance of the navy and army, and the people will be glad to see some of this diverted to the pressing needs of internal development and education. There is no severe animosity in Japan towards America. The most apparent feeling is one of irritation at being discriminated

NEW PLAY BANNED.

LORD CHAMBERLAIN OBJECTS
TO A BED.

The Lord Chamberlain, the Duke of Atholl, has refused to license Mr. Monckton Haffe's new comedy, "Pomp and Circumstance" which was to have been staged at the Duke of York's Theatre, London, with Mr. Robert Loraine in the leading role. It is understood that the objection to the play is a bedroom scene. Mr. Monckton Haffe interviewed a representative of the Lord Chamberlain and asked that the ban on the use of the bed might be removed, pointing out that beds appeared in other plays now being performed in London.

Mr. Haffe told a Daily Mail reporter that the Lord Chamberlain is going to consider the matter. "Not a single word has been objected to," he said. "Objection has been raised solely to the presence of beds on the stage."

"I gather that the bed is objected to as a bed and the Lord Chamberlain's department want to stop the appearance of beds on the stage. The last scene of the play takes place in a bedroom, but the bed is not essential to the play. I feel strongly about the matter, as I have made a point always to write clean plays. I feel this ban is a humiliation."

"This is not a play to laugh at, but to cry over," said Mr. Haffe. "If the ban on the bed remains, I shall not produce the play as I intended. I will not have it taken off as others might suffer, but I will let someone else produce the play and have the responsibility of removing the bed from the last scene."

"I feel the situation keenly, as my wife is playing in a piece in which a bed figure," Mr. Haffe referred to "The Man in Dress Clothes" at the Garrick Theatre, in which Miss Barbara Haffe (Mrs. Monckton Haffe) plays the leading woman's part, and in which a bed is a very prominent piece of furniture in the first and the third acts.

LAND SETTLEMENT.

AUSTRALIAN GOVERNMENT'S SCHEME.

From information recently received it appears that the Commonwealth of Australia is at present considering a comprehensive scheme of land settlement and immigration. The first demand for labour under this scheme will necessarily be for development works such as railways and roads, and with the progress of these works will come the demand for agricultural and farm labourers.

At present there is little difficulty in finding employment for rural workers provided those seeking employment are not afraid of hard manual labour. Farm hands with no previous experience would commence at a wage of approximately £1 a week in addition to board and lodging. With increased proficiency these wages would be increased to £2 per week and upwards.

Married men are advised to engage first as farm workers for at least a year in order to obtain the necessary experience of local conditions, land and stock values, and Australian methods.

A certain amount of capital is necessary if a man wishes to take up land. In Western Australia the State Government is prepared to make a grant of Crown Land and give substantial assistance on generous terms to men having £200 or upwards provided the Government is satisfied that the applicant is a qualified farmer.

Any men going to Australia in search of work of this kind should communicate with the State Immigration Office immediately upon arrival and on so doing will be given sound advice and useful assistance.

SUN YAT-SEN.

In the shelter of the Shamen, virtually under foreign protection, Sun Yat-sen waits to hear what happens to the remnant of his Northern Expeditionary Force. If General Hsu should win a victory, Sun Yat-sen will be a person of power again. If he loses, Sun will be a refugee out and out, and will probably take the road again. Save that he cannot be attacked, because he is anchored where his opponents cannot fire on him without offending the foreign interests represented by the Shamen, he is even now a refugee and a fugitive. His agents and friends, however, are carrying on in ways that prevent peace, bribing, recruiting bad characters, and generally fanning the flames. The situation calls for an analysis of Sun's value to China at the present time. At one time we had hopes because of him. Now we consider he is no asset to China, but a debit, no helper, but a hindrance. We will submit our reasons. This will be an analysis of his character as a man, and of the present state of his health. It is not viciousness that has altered him from a good man to a bad, but illness. We regard him as a bad case of egomania. His recent utterances are symptomatic. He talked of holding Chan "in the hollow of his hand" when interviewed by a reporter from the north. He has constantly harped on the word "subordinates." He will not "discuss with subordinates," they must take his orders. For a dozen times that he has thus spoken of them, we cannot recall one occasion on which he referred to them, as a more level-headed patriot would, as his colleagues or comrades in the cause. His own immediate advisers have departed, to interviewers, his bull-headedness. After all, this megalomania was to be expected, if we consider the type of man he is, and the extraordinary career he has had. Ever since he was illegally imprisoned and released in London he has lived the life of a hero of romance. He has wandered about the world, as a champion of political reform in China, for years, and in many countries was hailed as a martyr and a champion and a hero. He was very successful as a collector of funds from these admirers. His name has been made so familiar in the newspapers of the world that almost everyone knows it. Now a morally strong man would have difficulty in resisting the demoralising influence of so much limelight. It would require a very strong man indeed to slip modestly back into obscurity, after his objects are accomplished, after so much glory. He is now undoubtedly suffering what the psychologists call "folie de grandeur," and capable of sacrificing the whole of China to his own egotistic satisfactions. He might have forgiven Chan for disloyalty to China; he can neither forgive nor forget what he calls Chan's treachery to himself. He broods over it as laes majestatis; and the phrase suggests the fact that in some ways Sun and Kaiser Wilhelm suffer similar mental affliction. All who have met him lately (we mean all competent observers, and exclude the sycophants) say that he is now entirely engrossed in his own personal fate and reputation. He was recently talking about being a willing martyr, whose "name would be remembered for ever." This was indicative. The easiest martyrdom possible awaits him, if he would or could accept it. It is to sink his own personal vanity, to count praise or blame nothing, so long as the Constitutionalism he championed is brought about. It has been evident for some time that he could have this much but it is plain both from his own words and conduct, that he wants it plus full credit for Sun Yat-sen; and that he wants that full credit and praise more than he wants Constitutionalism.

To-morrow we will consider how it is that in such circumstances he still retains a following.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

During the voyage from Batavia two passengers on the Dutch s.s. "Tjondani" died and another was lost overboard.

The total output of the Kailan Mining Administration's mines for the week ending July 1, amounted to 76,402 tons and the sales during the period to 28,076 tons.

Found hanging dead from a tree in Leighton Hill, Happy Valley, yesterday, the body of an unknown male Chinese was cut down and removed to the public mortuary.

A richa coolie was admitted to the hospital on Saturday suffering from injuries received in a fight with other coolies in Belcher Street, Kennedy Town. His assailants absconded.

A gardener employed at "Jidwild," the residence of Sir Robert Ho Tung, was admitted to the hospital yesterday suffering from a fractured leg received through a fall from a tree while working in the grounds.

Revenue men searched the s.s. "Tyndareus" prior to her departure on Thursday and seized 3,885 taels of prepared opium which was contained in small tins cleverly concealed in some coils of new rope. No arrests were made.

Revenue Officer Lannigan searched a sampan for contraband in the Yau-mai typhoon shelter on Saturday night and seized 982 taels of prepared and 60 lbs. of raw non-Government opium. Two men found on the boat were arrested.

Twenty-four Mauser pistols, six revolvers and 800 rounds of ammunition were seized by revenue officers in the fore-castle of a Blue Funnel steamer on her arrival from Europe yesterday. The identity of the smuggler has not been discovered.

Suffering from severe injuries sustained through falling a distance of 50 feet from the window of the kitchen of No. 11 Circular Pathway into the back yard, a Chinese youth is now lying in the hospital in a serious condition.

Her friends will regret to learn that Madame Lottie Gordon, who has been suffering from sunstroke for about ten days, has had a relapse, in addition to contracting a chill. Her students are asked to note that for the present all lessons have had to be suspended.

A Chinese woman living at No. 307, Redemation Street, Mongkok, has reported to the police that she was in a house in Lai-chekok on Saturday morning the sick wife of a friend, when two armed men entered the house at 11 p.m. They entered a cubicle in which the woman was sitting on a bed and stole from her jewellery and clothing worth $34 and $7 in cash which the woman kept in a pillow box.

SNGBERRY.

A HOME EXAMPLE.

AUSTRALIANS BARRED AS "MENIAL WORKERS."

A reader who has been following the correspondence on "Snobbery" in the China Mail has sent us some clippings from an Australian newspaper which deal with an incident keenly discussed in Australian sporting circles. He does not mention the source from which the clipping was taken but Australians will readily recognise the racy phraseology of one of the Commonwealth's best known weekly newspapers.

One is headed, "HORRIFIED! DEAR, DEAR!" It says:—Horrified, hold yer breath! Hingland is horrified, horribly horrified. And it is ye Horstrialians, menial Horstrialians who have horrified deah Hold Hingland, deah, deah! Halter heaving four menial chests heavily, harken hunto this:—

Mr Pittman, the secretary of the Amateur Rowing Association, is horrified at the suggestion that the Murray Bridge crew should compete at Henley. In an interview with the special representative of The Sun he stated definitely that he did not want the Murray Bridge crew, and would not accept them.

He refuses to believe the Times cable that the 1912 crew included working-class men posing as civil servants. Such would have been a deliberate misrepresentation and would be impossible to credit.

"Our association," he added, "consists of 16,000, who are unassuming that mechanics and manual workers are undesirable."

The representative of The Sun suggested that Australia would appreciate a clear explanation of the reasons underlying the decisions, but its secretary considered that an explanation was uncalled for. "They know our rules perfectly well in Australia," he said.

Bai Jove, old Chappie, Dontoher-know that undah British amateur—ah—rules, mechanics, artisans, labourers, and all persons employed—ah—in "menial" duties are not allowed—ah—to compete in such well affairs with the superlative class from deah Hold Hingland—what! And that in consequence of this beastly, bally thing, Horstrialia will not—beastly common "menial" fellows—be represented at Henley—hin-Hingland, bai Jove!

This brings the 'Remindah to Horstrialia that Hingland had no objection to fighting alongside menials in the beastly wawh, dontoher-know, which saved the world for snobocracy—what! But in the next wawh, it will be bally different. Look heah, ye menials of Horstrialia, we heah in Hingland are very particular about our bally company, and in the next beastly wawh we'll be bally well damned if we fight alongside such common menial cattle as you bally Horstrialians, bai Jove! Heah, heah!

Another one, which has the caption: "Horror on the Henley!" says:—"There is a moral and social kink in the Englishman's character, which produces loud and prolonged laughter among Australians. That is the one thing that Australians should be thankful for—that they were born with a sense of humour, and that when they might be provoked into saying nasty things they merely smile and thank their lucky stars that they were not born in England; or if they were, that they landed in this country young enough to be able to become Australianised. For it isn't everyone who is an Australian who was born in Australia. Cause for more laughter and not anger was given lately when the English Rowing Association expressed its 'horror' that Australia would be represented at the international rowing event at Henley this year by a crew of labourers—'menials' they called them—and not gentlemen!"

If the reader has recovered from his second wind, it will be necessary to explain, amidst further loud and prolonged laughter, what this means. It means that under the rules of the British amateur rowing body professionalism, or any element of professionalism, is barred, and that only gentlemen of leisure, and not persons who participate in the sport after the completion of their daily 'menial' duties, can compete. Mechanics, artisans, hot carriers, coolies, wharf rat catchers, bill stickers, ferryman, tram conductors—commercial travellers, navvies, street sweepers, bartenders, totalisator clerks—these, ye gods, are all classed as menials. The Murray River crew, which qualified to represent Australia in the great society water-festival at Henley, are all 'menials.' They live by muscular effort, and therefore cannot brush elbows and hobnob with their 'betters', who are more technically known in the swell circles as "pure blooded amateurs." Translated into pure Australian from the pure English, this means that pure blooded loafers, dead heads and industrial parasites will compete at Henley, and that the 'menials' who would have represented Australia, but are debarr'd, are hard working sons of toil, who work to keep themselves like men rather than sponge on the old man or any other member of the family. When the official head of this queer bunch of Pomnie parasites heard that the Australian crew were all workers he was horrified, and said that there would certainly be trouble—possibly a strike or something—that's what is meant in Australian language—but as parasites can never strike in the industrial sense, not being capable of knocking off, the dreadful threat must have purported to have meant a "mutiny."

But the horror at Henley would have been nothing to the horror in Horstrialia, had that Murray River crew gone "home" and upset the gathering by the presence of its 'menials.' And had the menials been real gentlemen—that is to say, pure blooded parasites, loafers, cadgers, and beer huns, and beaten the English brand of parasites, loafers, cadgers and beer huns by the length of the Henley, there would have been worse horror at Henley and more prolonged laughter in Australia. For it could be depended upon that with either a crew of hard toilers who paid their board and lodgings out of their weekly basic wage, or with a crew of spongers on old men, Australia could have donkey-ticked the poor specimen of men in England who are mis-called "sports." But, once again Australians should thank Captain Cook for giving them such a new land, with its wide spaces and glorious sunlight, which gave them the chance of getting freedom and sense. There would be more horror in Australia and less laughter if the place had become a dumping ground for useless titles and effete old-world customs, which would have crippled our sense of proportion and our sense of humour. As it is, the Englishman has neither. He is the very negation of a sportsman because he is the born snob. There can never by any sporting instinct in the nation that breeds and fosters class distinction. The Englishman thrives on caste and the Australian thrives on cast—the cast to the rubbish heap of social distinctions. Those who had cherished the illusion that the war would have saved the world—or Australia at least—for the 'menials' were sadly mistaken. The 'menials' helped to save England at the risk of creating more horror at Henley.

Still Australians can live down the terrible shame of being 'menials', and they are optimistic enough to think that they can struggle through the crime of taking money for their services in sport after the finish of their working hours. There was a lingering tradition—fortunately for the gumption of Australia, it was short-lived and is now only of a negative quantity—that payment to foot-balls was a disgrace but the right of the labourer to proffer after his day's work, where he can entertain the crowd by his skill and energy, has been definitely established. The time has not yet arrived when the amateur and professional have ceased calling one another bad names—sporting jealousy is all it amounts to—but Australians know better than to regard workers who play as menials. There may be no immediate prospect of the loafers of England—not gentlemen, please, Mr. Comp!—making a visit to Australian waters to measure oars with the local menials or even the local loafers, but if they should make the trip to this horrible country the menials who 'gather at the river' might be avenged if they metaphorically dip somebody in the pond. Then there might be cause for real horror on the Henley, and more uproarious laughter in Australia.

TO PREVENT RHEUMATISM

When the general health is broken down, if conditions are favourable for the disease, rheumatism is very liable to develop. Without these conditions of low vitality and weakened resistance nature will protect the body against disease.

In the development of rheumatism a marked feature is the thinning of the blood caused by the breaking down of the blood cells.

The best treatment for rheumatism is rest and what doctors call a "supporting treatment," that is, to restore and retain a high level of general health. Then nature corrects the disease.

With these facts in view it is easily seen how Dr. Williams' Pink Pills prevent and relieve rheumatism. They tone up the blood and nerves and maintain the general health. Taken after rheumatism has developed they begin at once to rebuild the blood, to restore its broken-down cells, and that is to directly combat the disease. Natural applications are never effective in the treatment of rheumatism because the disease is in the blood and must be fought there.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold by all druggists, or direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. 60 South Church Street, Springfield, Mass., U.S.A. Price, 60¢ per bottle, $2.00 for 6 bottles, post free.

MURDER SENSATION.

CANTON OFFICIAL SHOT.

SUSPECTED POLITICAL OUTRAGE.

The Director of Public Works at Canton, Mr. Chan Tat-sang, a relative of General Chan Kwing-ming, was the victim of a fatal shooting outrage in the heart of the City on Saturday night. He was shot at from behind and fatally wounded while walking in Ramsay Street, which runs to the Praya between the World Theatre and the Wing On Co., at 11 p.m. A young lady, Mrs. Ng Ho Sze, the concubine of Mr. Fung Wai-long, commander of the M.B.K. at Canton, who was in Mr. Chan Tat-sang's company at the time of the shooting was also wounded, but her injury is not serious.

Mr. Chan who had been in Hongkong a few days, and resided at No. 12, Sea View Terrace, Wanchai on the water front, was at Tai Pak Lau, a popular recreation garden in Kennedy Town on Saturday night when he received word that some of his friends were arriving by the night steamer "Kinshon." He and his party, Mrs. Ng Ho Sze and another Chinese gentleman immediately returned to town. They got off the tram outside the Wing On Co., and were proceeding down Ramsay Street towards the Canton wharf when the outrage occurred. Although there were many people in the vicinity at the time of the shooting, the assassin managed to escape capture. In fact, the attack on Mr. Chan was so sudden, that no one even saw where the murderer had run to. Five or six shots were fired at the trio in quick succession. Mr. Chan was hit in the side by a bullet which emerged from the abdomen. Mrs. Ng Ho Sze was injured by one of the other bullets.

In spite of his injury, Mr. Chan ran towards the Great Eastern Hotel, in Connaught Road Central, where Mrs. Ng Ho Sze was staying, shouting for assistance all the way. Great excitement soon prevailed in the neighbourhood and a large crowd gathered, but no one saw any sign of the assassin. A number of people followed the victims of the shooting to the hotel where on arrival they were unfortunately refused admittance. The hotel people, alarmed by the sight of the crowd outside, shut the door against the couple. The police arrived then, and making their way with difficulty through the gaping crowd which had gathered round the wounded people, they removed Mr. Chan and the lady to the hospital. As usual, until the arrival of the police, no one in the crowd thought of rendering any assistance or of summoning help.

Neither Mr. Chan nor the lady could suggest any reason for the outrage but in view of the former's relationship to General Chan Kwing-ming, it is believed to have been instigated by political opponents in Canton. In spite of medical attention, Mr. Chan who maintained his consciousness to the last, succumbed to his wound yesterday afternoon. The woman, who was wounded in the foot, has been discharged from the hospital.

Besides being Director of Public Works, the deceased also held a number of other important posts, and was recognised as one of the most influential men in Canton at present.

As the result of enquiries made subsequent to the shooting, the police arrested a man who is now being detained on suspicion.

The arrested man, a barly seaman named Leung Hee was formally charged with murder before Mr. E. W. Hamilton this morning and remanded for a week on the application of Mr. A. E. Hall, solicitor for the defence.

THE "SHIMMY SHAKE."

NOVEL ATTRACTION FOR KOWLOON.

Hongkong has heard and read much of the "shimmy shake." There presents itself at the Kowloon Theatre this week an opportunity of actually seeing it done by two clever dancers, Miss Juanita Antido and Miss Conchita Blue who have just come up here from Singapore. They will make their first appearance at a special dance which has been arranged for to-morrow night when they will contribute several songs and dance numbers during the evening. During the rest of the week a picture entitled "White Hands" will be shown at Kowloon and additional interest is lent to the appearance of Miss Juanita by the circumstance that she chances to be one of the actresses seen in the film. Each night, beginning on Wednesday, the girls will appear in jazz songs and dances as a prelude to the picture entertainment.

MEMORIAL SERVICE.

LATE DR. WU TING FANG.

Commemorating an eminent son of St. Paul's College—the late Dr. Wu Ting Fang—past and present students of that institution attended a service at St. Paul's Church on Sunday. This was conducted by the Warden of the College, the Rev. A. D. Stewart, assisted by the Revs. Li Kow Yan and Tso Sio Kai, with Mr. Peter Chan at the organ. "Oh rest in the Lord" was played as a processional and the hymns, sung in Chinese, were: "Jesus calls us, o'er the tumult," "Art thou weary," "Nearer my God to thee" and "Abide with me." At the conclusion of the service the Dead March in "E-flat" was played. In the course of his address, in which he referred to the life of the distinguished past pupil, the Warden said: "Dr. Wu Ting-fang entered St. Paul's College very soon after it was founded by the Rev. Vincent Stanton, in the early days of the Colony. Here he first received his early impressions of Christianity, and he told me once," continued Mr. Stewart, "how well he remembered going to prayers in the little chapel in the old building, 70 years ago. After a time he was baptised into the Christian Church."

"He went to London and had the distinction of being the first Chinese to be admitted to the English Bar. Then he returned to Hongkong and became a member of the Legislative Council. He is best known to the world as the brilliant Ambassador of China to the United States of America. His recent movements are well known; how, on hearing the call of his country, he gave up his well-earned retirement and threw himself with unselfish energy into the work of trying to bring unity and peace into this distracted land."

Dr. Wu lived up to a high moral standard. He once told the scholars of St. Stephen's College that "a boy may be very clever, learned and well-informed, but without good morals he will not succeed in life." Dr. Wu was true to that principle at many a difficult time in his career; in all his decisions he ranged himself on the side of China. Very seldom could it be said in the history of any country that "none was for a party; all were for the State" but fortunately there were individuals in every country who rose superior to the claims of self and, when the temptation to self-seeking and gain came to them, were unshaken. He believed the future would show yet more of the good work Dr. Wu had done for his country. It might truly be said that Dr. Wu gave his life for his country, because if he had remained in retirement, humanly speaking there was no reason why he should not be alive to-day.

"Dr. Wu never forgot his old school, continued the Warden. Many students go away from their school; they never do anything for their school. It was not so with Dr. Wu. About ten years ago he gave a very clear proof of his interest and affection for his old school by making a donation of $5,000 for this very building in which we now are, and more recently he gave a still larger donation towards the building of the new hostel."

Mr. Stewart thought Dr. Wu might be called the leader of the noble band who, in the words of the School song, "will work for the good of their country," and he advised the boys to remember Dr. Wu's message, "Without good morals a man will not succeed." Dr. Wu, if he were there, would wish that their attention should be directed to the example of the great leader, Jesus Christ, who had promised to be with them all their days and lead them to a heavenly home.

HONGKONG VOLUNTEERS' SUCCESS.

A cable received here from London yesterday morning, brought the news that Corporal F. Goodman of the Scottish Coy of the I.K.V.D.C., has won the "Alexandra" Shooting Competition at Bisley. This success entitles Corporal Goodman to shoot for the King's Prize, the principal Trophy of the Bisley Competitions.

Corporal Goodman who had been in the I.K.V.D.C. since 1914, is a well-known local rifle shot. He won a number of prizes here and was second in the Corps Champion-shoot two years ago. He had also been a member of the team which for the last three years won the Hongkong Rifle League, and holds the "Donegal" badge as the best shot in the team. He scored his success at home with the rifle issued to him as a volunteer here.

COOLING THE CORONET.

AN INGENIOUS IDEA.

The Coronet management have hit upon an ingenious plan for the cooling of their comfortable little theatre. A small refrigerating plant has been installed in the basement and this will be in operation for the first time to-day. Cold air, cooled and cleaned by being passed through iced water will be circulated inside the building and the atmosphere inside the theatre will be gradually cooled until it is ten degrees lower than the temperature prevailing outside.

Of course it could be made much lower than that, but it is thought inadvisable to make the change in temperature too drastic. As it is, this management will have to insist upon people being in their seats for the commencement of the show, as it is felt unwise to let anybody enter the theatre once it has become partially cooled. As a further precaution against chill the temperature of the building will be gradually raised to normal towards the conclusion of the show.

During the two hours in the temperate zone offered them by the Coronet management next week people will have the chance of seeing a specially good Harold Lloyd Comedy, "I Do," which will be supported by a different feature each day. The pictures shown will be those which because of the heat or the rain, many people were unable to get along to see when they were shown for the first time. To-day's supporting feature will be "Captain Kidd Jr." featuring Mary Pickford.

COMPANY MEETING.

UNITED ASBESTOS ORIENTAL AGENCY LTD.

At the offices of the general managers (Messrs Dodwell & Co.) this morning the twenty sixth annual meeting of the United Asbestos Oriental Agency Ltd. was held. The Chairman (Mr. G. M. Dodwell) presided and there were present Messrs J. Owen Hughes, J. W. Burtwell, W. C. Shiner, E. Abraham, Percy Teeter, and H. J. Silva (shareholders) and the Secretary (Mr. G. R. Edwards).

The Chairman said: Gentlemen.—With your permission I propose to follow the usual procedure and take the Report and Accounts as read.

Your General Managers are pleased to be able to present to you such a satisfactory showing for the year under review—a period which has been marked by unprecedented depression in the majority of the world's markets—and I have no doubt the recommended allocation of the balance available for distribution will meet with your approval.

Stocks, property and investments have again been taken in the Balance Sheet at a very conservative figure and I do not think any other items in the Accounts before you call for particular comment.

I now beg to propose the adoption of the Report and Accounts as circulated. When this has been seconded I shall be pleased to answer to the best of my ability any questions shareholders may desire to ask.

In seconding the Chairman's resolution Mr. J. Owen Hughes said that nothing need be said save again to congratulate the general managers, the superintendent and all those who had so well served the Company for many years past.

The resolution having been carried, Mr. J. W. Burtwell proposed the re-election as auditor of Mr. O. Bernard Brown at a remuneration of $300 per annum. Mr. W. C. Shiner seconded and the resolution was carried.

The Chairman observed that that concluded the business of the meeting and, in thanking the shareholders for their attendance, mentioned that dividend warrants were now ready.

The Busiest Station in the World.
Twenty years ago Londoners proud of the size of the city and the dimensions of its traffic, used to point to the fact that Charing Cross was the busiest railway station in the world—on an average a train a minute passed through it. Now that record is doubled at the Underground station at Earl's Court, where 120 trains an hour pass through during the rush hours (according to Everyday Science) and at Charing Cross, with its three underground stations in one, there are often four and on an average three trains a minute. Twenty years ago, again, there were no motor omnibuses, and the horse omnibuses were but a fraction of their number. During the busiest hours to day 640 omnibuses pass Charing Cross in the hour, 668 pass the Bank, 542 pass Oxford Circus, and 518 pass Piccadilly Circus. Omnibuses and underground trains carry 4,000,000 passengers a day. The population has increased less than 20 per cent, since the beginning of the century, but for every journey in bus, tram, train, or cab we made then, we make between 30 and 40 to-day.

Jewels dug up in Paris.

Jewels worth over 300,000 have been discovered in the Bois de Boulogne under singular circumstances. A gardener employed by the Paris Municipal Council was digging near Porte Dauphine, and he was amazed to find that pearls were mixed with the earth dug up. He communicated his discovery to fellow-workmen who lent a hand in digging, and soon not only pearls numbering over 100, and evidently belonging to a necklace, but a sapphire and diamond bracelet, another large pearl surrounded with diamonds on platinum and other jewels were brought to light. The police took possession of this treasure trove, and an inquiry was at once instituted. The sapphire bracelet bore the name of a firm of jewellers in the Rue de la Paix, who identified it as having been purchased before the war by Comtesse de Beaurepaire when she was Madame Thompson. The Comtesse herself also identified the jewels as those which had been stolen from her in 1914, probably by a German maid.

Modern Cave dwellers.

A remarkable story of a family living under most primitive conditions comes from Shetley Bridge, Co. Durham. A young married woman, with two children, was found in a hole deep down in a disused quarry. They were removed by the relieving officer to his house, and after being cared for were sent to the local workhouse. There the woman told a strange story. She had been married since 1915, and in 1919 she and her husband went to live in a house of their own at the village of Tow Law, where the husband was engaged as a miner. When the coal dispute occurred and the man was thrown out of employment he sold up the house and furniture, and took his wife and children to live with him for six months in a quarry-near Elm Park. They found a hole among some shrubbery, and having obtained a quantity of old sacking with which they made coverings they settled themselves, using straw for bedding. Her husband, she added, went away just a week. During the snow storm, she and her children continued to live in the hole huddled together. When the children were suffering seriously from frost and rheumatism, and were almost speechless.

The Bell at Peking.

The Chinese cherish a lovely legend concerning the great bell at Peking. The Emperor, they say, sent for Kuan Yin, the master of the bells, and described the bell that he desired. It was to be larger than any bell ever made, and its tone in no way beautiful. Its music was to be heard a hundred miles away. Great honours were to be heaped upon the bell-maker if he succeeded in a cruel death was to follow his failure. Kuan Yin set to work; he mixed the finest metals; he laboured night and day; and at last he finished the bell. He tried, again, and was again mortified. He was at his wits' end. Then Kuan Yin, his beautiful daughter, consulted an astrologer.

SHOULD THE DEAF BE LABELLED?

In returning a verdict of "Accidental death" a Coroner's jury at South-wark expressed the opinion that deaf persons should wear a distinctive mark in the street.

Dr. Waldo, who was conducting an inquiry into the death of James Mansfield, of St. George's-buildings, Borough Highstreet, said that the Departmental Committee on Transport had recommended that deaf cyclists should carry the warning, "I am deaf."

It was stated in evidence that Mansfield left the pavement in Trinity-street, South-wark, to cross the road without looking to see what traffic was coming. He walked into two horses drawing a van, was knocked down, and instantaneously killed.

The oracle assured her that, if the blood of a fair virgin mingled with the molten metals, the music would ravish the foundry; and, when the glowing metal poured white hot from the furnace, she threw herself into the shining bath before her. The music of the great bell, the Easterners say, is the music of the sacrifice.

It is only an Oriental myth; but it strangely helps me to interpret to my heart the solemn sweetness that I recognise in all these Christmas chimings.—F. W. Boreham in the Sunday at Home.

Naturalist art.

The real "curiosities" of up-to-date art as exemplified by Futurist vision are, admittedly, difficult to admire, but before one dismisses them with a guffaw they must be given a fair judgment. They are intended as pictorial expressions of the kaleidoscope of the human mind, and must be regarded from the psychological point of view, not the material. The Futurist artist claims that he can set down in paint the fleeting thoughts which "pass through the mind of say, a traveller as his train pushes into the terminus. Such a man is preoccupied with his luggage; the friend who is meeting him; the lights and gaiety of London; the fatigue of a long journey and the delight of reaching its end; and this complex state of mind may by a quiescent "patchwork" picture such as we have often seen exhibited in advanced exhibitions. These curious canvasses are attempting to do something quite new in the realm of art—they are trying to picture a state of mind, and there are numbers of perfectly sane people who affirm that they succeed in doing this. If this be the case, the patchwork Futurist production must inevitably escape the stigma of being "mad" or "decadent."

A De Wet Incident.

A military correspondent writes:—"In a life as replete with adventure as was that of Christian De Wet during the Boer War there were safe to have been countless occasions when the Boer hero went near to death. The nearest occurred in 1901, when the guerrilla leader, at the height of his fame, was extricated by his raiding column from its affair in the Cape Colony. He was headed off by several of the pursuing detachments. From one of these a couple of very young British cavalry troopers had been sent on a forward patrol. They stopped at a wayside store and stabled their horses in a back shed. When the Boer commando came through in haste the woman of the store, who was friendly to the two English boys, sent them up into the garret above her shop. Here they crouched with their rifles at the ready while the scouts and the main body of the commando went through. Then a Cape cart came along and drew up at the store to elicit some information. It was seated Christian De Wet and President Steyn. The corporal recognised De Wet from the pictures he had seen; but though his finger was upon the trigger his heart failed him. As he said in cross-examination afterwards: "I had not the heart to shoot a man in 'Gives' in cold blood." This lad's natural acumen probably prolonged the Boer War by eighteen months. Of such incidents is history made."

Yarns.—Prices are 1d. to 1d. per lb. higher but buyers are reluctant to follow the advance.

Cloth.—Business was resumed on Monday after the Whit week holidays, and a large enquiry was met.

India, China, the Levant and South America are all interested, but the advanced prices required by sellers are preventing business from coming to book in any large volume. A considerable number of small lines are placed.

Bids from overseas markets are in most cases exceedingly low, and buyers are still nervous lest they should be "rushed" into paying prices which might, later on, turn out to have been too high.

Exporters are still handicapped by the fact that their customers abroad require in many cases shipment at an early date. The short delivery times of two months ago are no longer obtainable, and much business is missed on this account.

The settlement of the Engineering Lookout has given a fillip to the Home Trade.

The Straits and Java are still suffering from their "malaise" although sales are reported to be better in both markets.

The failure of the Bankers Conference to arrive at a scheme for a loan to Germany has adversely affected European exchanges.

Messrs. James F. Hutton and Co. Ltd., Manchester, report:—

Since our last report the American Census Bureau have issued their first report on the growing American crop.

This had been awaited with considerable interest in the cotton markets, and some nervousness, but the estimated condition of 69.6 proved to be almost identical with general anticipations and consequently had practically no effect on values. It compares with a condition of 68.0 last year and an average of 74.5 for the last 10 years. The reason being still early there is of course ample time for improvement, but conditions will have to be much better than last year if a crop of even 11,000,000 bales is to be gathered. Quieter trading after the issue of the report led to a fall in values. Following this, however, there have been fresh reports of unfavourable weather and boll weevil infestation coupled with bullish speculation statistics and optimistic trade reports. Heavy buying has resulted as there is a persistent fear that the production this season, with the addition of the carryover from last, will be inadequate for consumers' needs. The American markets have been excited and sharp fluctuations have taken place which have been reflected on this side although our markets have been quiet owing to closing for the Whitehouse holidays. The tone of the Manchester market is very firm, for although little business has been transacted, the volume of enquiry has become very large indeed, and a continuance of the recent improvement is looked forward to with some confidence.

The advance of the raw material has of course caused a corresponding rise in yarn prices which are about 1d/1d per lb. dearer, and it is getting increasingly difficult to obtain concessions. The increase of enquiry has come very largely from India, the demand covering all classes of standard qualities, grey, white, printed and finished. China is still comparatively quiet but miscellaneous lots are being sold. Egypt, the near East, and the Straits Settlements have all shown more interest. Trading for the Continent and the Home Trade has been good. There has been a large enquiry for yarns, both for home use and export.

Two robbers, armed with a dagger and a revolver, respectively, entered the Ming Kee money changer's shop, No. 23, Bulkeley Street, Hongkong, at 8.15 on Saturday night and made a haul of $58 in cash. They held up the master, who was sitting behind the counter, and the man with the dagger knocked him off his stool. While the man with the revolver covered the folk of the shop with his weapon and huddled them up in a corner his confederate, opened up six drawers in the counter and stole $58 in cash.

CANTON SITUATION.

SEE-SAWING AT SIUKWAN.

A big fire, the origin of which is a mystery, completely destroyed the aerodrome at Honam on Saturday night. Particulars as to the extent of loss suffered is not yet known here.

A cable received here on Saturday stated that Siukwan had been captured by Sun's troops. Another cable yesterday reported that Chan's forces had recaptured the place after heavy fighting, while this morning came the news that Chan's troops had again been defeated and retreated in disorder.

The cruiser "Wing-cheung" has declared its neutrality and sailed down river yesterday from the Naval anchorage at Pakmotam, opposite Shamen, to Whampoa river where she is now anchored at Linfaashan with the "Hoichoo" and other ships.

Sun's cruiser, the "Popok" captured a launch with supplies from Canton to Chan's fighting forces in the North River regions and confiscated all the equipment as prize of war. The launch was bound for Wongha whence the supplies were to have been transported by the Canton-Hankow Railway to Siukwan.

On Saturday Admiral Chu Chak, one of Sun's supporters sailed up river to Kongmoon with a fleet of warships and captured the City without using force, the defenders, about 200 strong hoisting white flags as soon as the ships were sighted. About 100 sailors were landed from the warships, and they pushed on inland to Pakkai without meeting with the slightest resistance, anywhere.

Yesterday morning however, General Chan Tak-chuen arrived with reinforcement for the garrison of the City and the sailors suffered heavy defeat. They were forced to return to their ships, which immediately sailed to Chuetanashan, outside Kongmoon.

The failure of the Naval attack was attributed to the fact that now land troops were carried by the warships and what sailors they could spare to form a landing party were not strong enough to withstand the attack of Chan's soldiers.

Fighting is expected in Fatsan at any moment, as a noted robber chief named Ho, who has been appointed a general by Sun, is reported to be recruiting for the Manhuon in Lokohung 20 li outside the city, with the expressed intention of invading Fatsan. During the whole of yesterday and Saturday the Garrison in Fatsan was busy taking strong defensive measures.

MURDER CHARGE.

PHOTOGRAPH LEADS TO ARREST.

Closely guarded by two detectives, a Chinese was charged before Mr. R. E. Lindsell this morning with the murder of a cargo coolie on May 21, 1920.

According to the police the murder was committed outside the Yue Tak Shing godown at No. 43, Praya, Kennedy Town, and the alleged murderer was not seen again until the 13th inst. when he was arrested on board the s.s. "Kwangai." The murdered man, Chan San, was alleged to have been stabbed in the course of a fight with several other men. Shortly after the murder, two men were arrested and tried at the Criminal Session but they were discharged. Afterwards a reward of $200 was offered for information leading to the arrest of the man who dealt the fatal blow. A photo of the "wanted" man in the uniform of an officer in the Chinese Army, and wearing a sword was published with the reward notice, and it was by this photo that the rascal was identified on board the "Kwangai." At the time of the murder, the alleged murderer was employed as a Sanitary Board coolie. He had obtained three weeks' leave and went to work at the godown as a cargo coolie. It was while he was thus employed that the trouble with the murdered man took place.

The hearing of the case was fixed for July 24.

BASEBALL.

HONGKONG BEATS CANTON.

Supporters of the local nine were considerably encouraged on Saturday at the way in which the local aggregation handled the Canton nine, whom they beat by four runs to one, after a very exciting and keenly contested game. The play of the Hongkong men was a great improvement on that they displayed against the Japanese team recently. They are now feeling more confident of their prospects against Columbia—a strong team who take the field. Hongkong tried out a new pitcher who did well although the Canton pitcher rather outshined him.

FUNNY FRUIT.

REVOLVER AMONG THE PEARS.

A Chinese was charged before Mr. R. W. Hamilton this morning with the unlawful possession of one revolver and 200 rounds of ammunition.

Mr. Leo d'Almada who appeared for the defence, pleaded guilty. He said that his client had come down from Sunning for two purposes, namely, to take delivery of a parcel sent to him by his brother in New York by the s.s. "Empress of Asia" and to buy some fruit for his business in the country. He put the package into one of his baskets of fruit and was boarding the Macao boat, yesterday, to return home when he was arrested. He asked for leniency as the defendant did not know the nature of the contents of the parcel.

A Chinese constable said that he found five baskets of fruit on board the s.s. "Sunitai" yesterday. The defendant claimed them as his property. The witness emptied a basket of pears and found the contraband concealed in the bottom.

Remarking that it was obvious that the defendant knew he was doing wrong by the fact that he had concealed the parcel, the Magistrate imposed a fine of $250 or three months' hard labour.

LIFT-MAN SCIENTIST.

CONSIDERS PRESENT GENERATION DEGENERATE.

At the age of sixty-five Mr. Walter Hunt, of Streatham, a lift attendant who is also a Fellow of the Royal Anthropological Institute, set off recently for a cycle tour of Scotland.

His chief mission in life is to call attention to the view that physically we are a declining and a decaying race—a view he has held and preached for 40 years. He has written one book about it and now has another ready for publication—"Modern Civilization and its Future."

It is mainly to show that there is no excuse for such degeneracy that Mr. Hunt cycles.

His experiences as a seaman in the Navy led him to this campaign. Born in Mitham, he joined when a boy 60 years ago and saw service in the East, spending several years on survey work in the South Seas. The natives he met were cannibals, and though a rule hostile he learnt to admire them for their fine physique. He noted "the serious effort contact with civilization had on the splendid physique of these peoples, and on their fine moral system as well."

After 12 years in the Navy, Mr. Hunt became a Metropolitan fireman. Later, when working as a mechanic, he went to Balliol College for a month, and in the following year to Christ Church. As a result of papers written there, he was elected a Fellow of the Anthropological Institute.

When 42 he learned to cycle. He has toured every part of the British Isles, and won numerous trophies for distance and speed. He wears a watch won in a handicap race of 50 miles on Brighton road. He was 50, and all the other competitors were young men.

During the war he was in the Naval Anti-Aircraft Corps. While there he accepted a young man's challenge to cycle to Brighton and back (84 miles). "I gave him 36 yards and beat him by 20 minutes," he told the Daily News.

Mr. Hunt also possesses cups for ambulance work, rifle shooting—he was third in the annual firing returns in the Navy in 1884—and saving life. He lectures on geology and ethnology, and has a fine collection of fossils and palaeolithic implements.

The Sze Hop money changer's shop, No. 98, Telam Street, San-shui, was entered by three armed robbers at 12.30 p.m., yesterday, and robbed of $36 in cash. Two of the robbers entered the shop while the third kept guard at the door. They drove all the folk into the kitchen, and overpowered the master at the counter, broke open two drawers and stole the money.

THE U. S. RAILWAY STRIKE.

WASHINGTON, July 15th.
In the course of a Cabinet discussion on the shippers' strike, the Postmaster-General intimated that the bulk of the mails were carrying normally, although there had been delays at various points. He declared that a thousand commercial aeroplanes were being held in readiness by their respective owners, to assist in the carriage of mails if required.

THE IRISH FIGHTING.

Dublin, July 15th.
A communiqué states that the irregulars hold the barracks at Waterford and have mined the roads to the city.
Fighting has been in progress at Limerick since Tuesday, and the position of the National Army there is most satisfactory.

The guard fired on the prisoners in Mountjoy Prison, Dublin, for not heeding a warning to desist from signalling to persons outside. Two of the prisoners were wounded.

The correspondent of Freeman's Journal says that 2,000 inhabitants of Limerick are on the verge of starvation in consequence of the siege, whilst hundreds are fleeing from the city.

Luxemburg, July 15th.
Paralysis is slowly creeping over the economic life of Ireland, and is becoming increasingly grave in aspect. The present condition in some places, more especially in Limerick, place civilians in peril of starvation.

Ambulance trains are arriving in Dublin with Nationalist casualties, principally from the South, which is the scene of the Government's most formidable task.

The irregulars are concentrated in large numbers in the counties of Limerick, Cork, Kerry, Waterford, and part of Tipperary, but apart from rounding up the marauders, the revolt in Donegal, Mayo and Sligo is now suppressed.

The most striking Free State success terminated the ten days' fighting at Collooney, County Sligo, which General McKewen's troops captured, taking seventy prisoners, after a four hours' battle. The irregulars at Charles vainly attempted an encircling movement, losing 74 prisoners.

The irregulars control the approaches to Cork City, and have established a blockade. The citizens are suffering great privations in consequence of the blockade and the exactions of the irregulars.

GERMAN REPARATIONS.

Paris, July 15th.
The Felix Parisien states that the German Ambassador handed to the French Government a new note intimating that Germany is obliged to suspend payments of compensation for private property.

The French Government has forwarded a letter to the German Government, providing that payments of reparations, in kind, should operate from July 20th.

The Revo de Paris says that Premier Poincaré told M. Dubois, President of the Reparations Commission, that there can be no regular moratorium until it is first proved that Germany has done her utmost to keep her engagements; if, on the other hand, it is shown that a gigantic system of evasion has been created, the duty of the Commission is to propose to the Allies the measures necessary on this matter.

"Nothing has the Same Lasting Results"

Hall's Wine the Great British Tonic for health and strength not only enables the body to resist disease, but quickly and permanently restores the wasted frame to health after illness or operation.

It is used with consistent success in Nerve Weakness, Coughs and Colds—in the words of a well-known Medical Man, "Nothing has the same lasting results."

It is no wonder doctors all over the British Isles prescribe Hall's Wine—and have done so for nearly thirty years—when it has won such glowing tribute to its worth.

Hall's Wine

THE SUPREME RESTORATIVE.
 A doctor writes of this wonderful tonic: "Hall's Wine has been up to me effectively that I have pinned my faith to it ever since."

Hall's Wine is obtained from all the finest Grapes and is purest and most delicious and is sold in all the leading Chemists and Grocers.

HONGKONG WAR MEMORIAL.

SCHEME NEARING COMPLETION.

LOCAL CENOTAPH DESCRIBED.

A plain granite pylon, impressive in its simplicity, will comprise Hongkong's memorial to "the Glorious Dead." To be erected on the finest site, visible from the harbour, the local cenotaph will, it is hoped, serve to remind those resident here and the stranger within our gates, of the great sacrifices made during the war. Some of Hongkong's sons are numbered with the glorious dead. The monument will mourn their loss and, at the same time, express triumph at duty done to so great a cost. Local granite is to be used in the construction of the cenotaph, which will tower to a height of thirty six feet, while its base measurements will be 12 ft. 6 ins by 3 ft. The pylon will be mounted on three or four steps and on the face will be the inscription "The Glorious Dead" and above a big laurel wreath in bronze. On one side will be draped three flags, the White Ensign, the Red Ensign and the Union Jack. The national and Naval flags combined with the Blue Ensign will be placed on the other, the staffs in each instance bearing a bronze wreath. Whether these flags will be composed of silk or hunting has not yet been decided. The ground surrounding the monument is to be laid out in keeping with the vicinity but these details are not yet completed nor has the actual position of the column been yet decided upon.

U-LAWFUL ARMS.

A Chinese passenger from America by the s.s. "President Jackson," was charged before Mr. R. E. Lindsell this morning with the unlawful possession of a revolver and 119 rounds of ammunition.

He said that he was returning from Canada to Canton, and carried the revolver for his protection. He did not know that it was unlawful to possess a revolver without a licence in Hongkong.

The Magistrate fined him $100, and ordered the provisional confiscation of the revolver for three months; at the end of which time if the defendant produced a permit from the Canton authorities to carry the weapon there is would be returned to him.

Another Chinese passenger by the same ship was charged with the possession of a rifle and 1,000 rounds of ammunition. He was remanded until to-morrow on the application of Mr. G. R. Haywood, solicitor for the defence. Bail was allowed in sum of $500.

The Chinese alleged to have been concerned in the jewellery robbery at the Sun Coy's store, was again before Mr. R. E. Lindsell this morning. The Magistrate fixed the hearing of the case for Wednesday next at noon, on the application of Chief Detective Inspector Munro who said that there will be 17 witnesses for the prosecution.
